

An aerial photograph of an industrial or construction site. In the center, there is a large, white, rectangular building. To the left, there are several blue-colored areas, possibly water tanks or ponds. The site is surrounded by green trees and a road network. In the background, there are more industrial buildings and a large, yellowish-brown area, possibly a construction site or a large pile of earth. The overall scene is a mix of industrial infrastructure and natural greenery.
